

SWPBS

School Wide Positive Behaviour Support

Bundaberg North State School is an SWPBS school. SWPBS is a framework founded on a positive approach to whole-school wellbeing, which helps our school to create a positive learning environment for our students.

The primary aim of SWPBS is to improve educational outcomes for students. It achieves this through:

- prevention of behaviour problems and management of existing issues positively and consistently
- developing skills and knowledge in schools for better teaching and learning
- creating and maintaining a better school environment for students, teachers and the whole school community

All members of staff at Bundaberg North State School define, teach, and support appropriate student behaviours in classroom and non-classroom settings, and give feedback on expected behaviours. To this end, every part of our school is considered a teaching and learning environment.

Behaviour bands are awarded to our students daily for positive behaviour, and at nominated times throughout each term, students may be awarded a Bronze, Silver or Gold award and take part in an award celebration.
